

Capacity Canada and FuseSocial

Google for Non-Profits

Capacity Canada and FuseSocial have partnered with Google to offer Google for Non-profits.

The program offers qualified non-profits access to free versions of paid Google products including:

Hangouts Meet for video conferencing; Docs which is used for collaborative document editing, and other tools.

Google is offering 1:1 support to help with set up and training.

If you're interested in learning more or getting connected to a Google volunteer, email Matt Teskey, a Program Manager from Google at teskey@google.com

Quote from Matt Teskey:

"A number of Googlers and I are looking for local non-profits that need help adapting to working from home, going digital, and staying connected with their teams and communities. We'd love your help identifying local non-profits that are looking for help in this area, and to either make introductions or pass along our information."
